REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

To the Citizens of the Town of Easton:

During the year 1915 there were reported to the Board of Health seventy (70) cases of infectious diseases dangerous to the public health. This is an increase of sixteen (16) over the year 1914. The cases reported were as follows:

Typhoid Fever, 17; Tuberculosis, 3; Chicken Pox, 15; Scarlet Fever, 8; Diphtheria, 7; Whooping Cough, 10; German Measles, 1; Measles, 5; Mumps, 4.

Tuberculosis still continues to be the source of the greatest expense of any of the diseases with which the Board of Health has to deal, it having been the cause of the expenditure of $1,602.53 during 1915.

While in the year 1914 there was not a single case of Typhoid Fever reported to the Board of Health, in 1915 we had seventeen (17) cases, and as it was necessary for the Board to care for a number of these cases, it was the cause of the expenditure of $550.09. An investigation by the Board failed to disclose with any degree of certainty the cause of this outbreak. The most likely cause, in some of the cases at least, appeared to be the drinking of water while berrying, which may have been polluted.

During the past year the Board has passed certain regulations relating to sink drains, cesspools, privies, privy vaults, garbage and manure. These regulations, which are appended to this report, have been published in the local paper, and posted in various places in the Town, and are now in full force and effect.

One of the principal objects of these regulations is to prevent the spread of disease by flies. It is agreed by all health authorities that flies are filthy insects; that they are germ carriers and a very potent factor in the spread of disease. The young flies are maggots, and they breed in stable manure and excrement of all kinds. Cesspools, privy vaults, and garbage pails are their favorite haunts. We ask the co-operation of all householders in seeing that these regulations are obeyed in letter and spirit.

Cleanliness is the one great preventive of disease, and the greatest factor in preserving the public health. This means not only cleanliness in the person, but cleanliness in the premises occupied by the household.

We ask all householders to see to it that their cellars are well cleaned, and all decayed vegetable matter removed therefrom in the early spring, and that their premises are cleaned up and kept clean, so as to prevent the breeding of flies and mosquitoes to as great an extent as possible.

Tin cans and like receptacles if allowed to lie about will catch rain water and serve as breeding places for mosquitoes. The absence of these receptacles from the premises of a householder may mean a great deal to that household in the way of health and comfort.

The health regulations require that privy vaults shall be made fly proof, and that all garbage shall be kept in a tight metal-covered receptacle, and no person is allowed to carry garbage through the streets and highways of the Town of Easton without a permit from the Board of Health.

The Board is aware that in a town such as Easton, which is made up in a large degree of farming territory, there may be some difficulty in controlling manure piles, which experience has taught are the great breeding places for flies. It is possible, however, to prevent to a great degree the breeding of flies in manure heaps by treating these heaps with borax or hellebore.

The United States Department of Agriculture has made a study of this subject and experiments have shown that the treatment of manure by hellebore increases the value of the manure. The treatment of manure by borax although slightly cheaper than the hellebore treatment has been found to be injurious to some plants, if used in excess, but the borax treatment is recommended as a larvicide for the treatment of outhouses, refuse piles, and other such places where flies may deposit eggs.

The formula given for the use of borax is one (1) pound to eight (8) bushels of manure, although good results have been obtained by using sixty-two hundredths (62-100) pounds of borax to eight (8) bushels of manure. Powdered hellebore should be mixed with water at the rate of one-half (1-2) pound to ten (10) gallons, and the solution thoroughly stirred and allowed to stand for several hours in a barrel or other container. In order to obtain the most satisfactory results, the manure should be sprinkled with this solution immediately on removal from the barn. The sprinkling may be done with a watering can, and care should be taken that all of the hellebore comes in contact with the manure, and particular attention should be paid to the outer edges of the pile.

Under Chapter 744 of the Acts of 1914, the Board has issued seventy-five (75) permits for producing and dealing in milk. As it is necessary for every person who makes and sells milk to have a permit, these permits were issued not only to the person whose principal business it is to deal in milk, but to persons who sell an occasional quart of milk to their neighbors.

The milk problem as a public health problem is one of great importance, and at the present time is being given a great deal of attention all over the country.

From the number of permits issued it will readily be seen that as far as Easton is concerned, it is a local problem, that is to say, that the greater part of the milk used in Easton is produced there. While there are some dairy barns in Easton which will compare favorably with dairy barns anywhere, a great deal of the milk produced in our Town is produced in old-fashioned barns.

Experience has shown that the place where the milk is produced is not as potent a factor in the making of pure milk as the care which is exercised by those who handle the milk, that is to say, that clean milk may be produced in an old-fashioned barn, whereas dirty milk may be produced in the dairy having all the modern conveniences.

Of course, it is much easier to produce clean milk in an up-to-date barn than it is in an old-fashioned one, but if a dairyman has a barn which is properly ventilated and has a proper amount of air space for each cow, if he removes the manure from the barn daily, and when it comes time to milk, if he will look after the personal cleanliness of the persons who do the milking, and see that the cows' udders are made clean before milking, and that the milk is removed from the barn promptly and properly and cleanly handled, it will be possible for him to have clean milk with a low bacteria count, but if a dairyman is careless about the condition of his cows at the time he milks, and careless of his own person, neglecting to wash his hands properly, and fails to put on clean overalls or a clean milking suit, he will have dirty milk with a high bacteria count regardless of the place where the milk is produced.

It is for the interest of the dairyman to produce clean milk, and perhaps one of the most effective ways for the consumer to assure himself that he is receiving clean milk is to take an interest in his dairyman and his barn, and make an occasional visit to see the condition under which milk is being produced.

The lack of a proper dumping place is becoming a serious problem in the village of North Easton, and with the installation of a water system in other parts of the town, sooner or later this problem will be more extensive.

Under present conditions very few people have the means of caring for the output of cesspools and privy vaults, and the result is that very often a nuisance is established on the land of some innocent person by having such matter dumped upon the land of such person without his knowledge.

In the absence of a sewerage system which sooner or later will be required as a public health measure in Easton, we believe that the Town should procure a suitable piece of land which could be used as a dumping ground, and which could be properly cared for so as not to become a nuisance, and a menace to children who are apt to frequent dumping grounds under present conditions, and sometimes pick up substances which are liable to cause them injury.

During the year 1915 the Board of Health made one hundred and eleven (111) inspections, which included inspections for dairy permits, nuisances, and contagious diseases. Fifty-one (51) disinfections were made. Four (4) garbage permits and three (3) slaughtering licenses have been issued.

The number of births in Easton during 1915 was ninety-eight; the numbers of deaths, sixty-two (62), and there were four still births. The causes of death were as follows:

Arterio Sclerosis, 13; Broncho Pneumonia, 6; Lobar Pneumonia, 3; Bronchitis, 1; Laryngitis, 1; Pulmonary Tuberculosis, 5; Cerebral Hemorrhage, 3; Apoplexy, 1; Myocarditis, 3; Angina Pectoris, 1; Valvular Heart Disease, 1; Heart Disease, 1; Natural Causes, probably Cerebral Hemorrhage, 1; Summer Diarrhoea, 1; Gastritis, 1; Gastric Ulcer, 1; Duodenal Ulcer, 1; Chronic Enteritis, 1; Interstitial Nephritis, 1; Chronic Interstitial Nephritis, 3; Diabetes, 1; Diabetes Mellitus, 1; Typhoid Fever, 2; Diphtheria, 1; Carcinoma, 3; Premature Birth, 1; Intra-Cranial Hemorrhage of the newborn, 1; Pemphigus, 1; Accidental Fall, causing Fracture of Neck, 1; Automobile Accident, causing multiple injuries, 1.

Dr. Frank J. McCabe, who was a member of the Board for five (5) years, resigned in April for the reason that he was about to pursue a new line of activity which necessitated his removal from the town. His associates on the Board take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation of him as a co-worker in the interest of the public health of Easton.

Mr. Charles H. Hennegar was elected to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Dr. McCabe at a meeting of the Board of Selectmen and the remaining members of the Board of Health sitting as a joint board.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF MOTH WORK

To the Selectmen of the Town of Easton.

I submit the following report for the year 1915:

Browntail Moth Work

The favorable conditions of last year continue and I have very little, if any, work to do on this branch of the work. There are but very few webs to be seen, and I find them very small and weak, so that very little, if any, cutting will be necessary.

Gypsy Moth Work

It was found necessary to clean up but five orchards the past season, and the work was confined largely to spraying and creosote work.

A decrease in the number of orchard colonies, and so far as the scout is completed, a decrease in woodland colonies, may be noted in the summary.

Spraying orchards was done early and the owners have co-operated with us, in many cases, doing their own sparying, with very satisfactory results.

The plantings of parasites, both of the beetle and others are spreading rapidly, and are becoming well established, in one colony about one third of the pupae were found to be parasited.

The Northeast, North and Northwest sections of the town are remarkably free from the moth, there being a very noticeable decrease in the number of egg clusters found.

No. of colonies on private properties Dec. 31, 1915.....	424
No. of woodland colonies Dec. 31, 1915.....	26
No. of colonies on private property sprayed.....	137
No. of colonies on highway sprayed.....	26
No. of colonies sprayed by owners.....	48

127 rds. stone wall, two stone heaps, and one acre of rubbish and stone ground, located on twenty properties, were burned over with oil torch.

Clean up work was done in five orchards, and cement work on two properties.

6200 lbs. arsenate of lead was used; 93 gals. gasoline, 7 gals. oil, 4 bbls. burning oil, 40 gals. creosote.

I would recommend that the town raise and appropriate for moth work for 1916 the amount of the town liability.

ROAD COMMISSIONERS' REPORT

To the Citizens of Easton, Massachusetts:

The Road Commissioners of the Town of Easton wish to present for your attention in a more specific manner than the financial statement which follows, a description of the variety and extent of work done by the Highway Department during the last fiscal year.

The automobile as a pleasure and commercial vehicle has to an enormous extent superseded the horse-drawn vehicle. Roads built for the old method of conveyance utterly fail to stand the wear and tear of pleasure cars and commercial trucks, necessitating a revolution in road building with its consequent variety of problems, some still unsolved, as to the most practical and most economical way to construct and maintain highways under the constantly increasing, highly destructive traffic.

During 1915 it became necessary to resurface many streets of our town, and in doing this work twelve and one-half miles of the most heavily traveled roads were treated with tar and sand, one-half mile with oil and sand, and in the least traveled sections seven and two-thirds miles were covered with a dust-laying oil. A large amount of patching was also done, filling in holes in macadam roads to prevent breaking up. In this particular work 46,000 gallons of tar and 23,000 gallons of oil were used. This work, of necessity, must be continued each year to hold and preserve our most used roads.

The danger spots on our town ways must be protected, and to partially comply with the requirements 7,320 feet of guard rail fence was constructed this year, and as much more must be constructed in 1916.

Other work done consisted of 3500 tons of stone being crushed, 550 feet of clay and iron pipe laid for drains, nine new catch basins built, four and one-quarter miles of road newly graveled, and 1500 feet of water bond macadam constructed.

In the southern part of the town, Poole's Bridge had become a menace to public traffic, and to eliminate this old and dangerous bridge, a new one of cement and steel was constructed at a low cost, which will last for years and not require such repairs as new timbering and flooring as on a wooden bridge.

In widening and grading various streets of the town, such as Washington, Depot and Sheridan Streets, 2500 feet of graveling was done. Other work necessary in general repairs, such as flushing of wells and drains, blasting, widening of culverts, clearing gutters, erecting guide boards and signs, and carting, has kept the department busily engaged during the year.

Your committee would advise, after careful consideration, the purchase of a portable crusher, as a matter of economy, to take the place of our old crushing plant which has decreased yearly in capacity and will be less this coming year. With a portable machine, the work, in case of construction or extensive repairs, could be located near the job, not two, three or four miles away, as at present with our old crusher, with consequent loss of time and money through long hauls. We hope this matter will be considered favorably in our appropriation request at the annual March meeting.

We further submit for your consideration the financial report of the year 1915:

AUDITORS' REPORT

We, the undersigned, auditors of the Town of Easton, for the year ending December 31, 1915, submit the following report.

We have examined the books kept by the several departments, carefully checking each entry, and verifying the extensions and additions.

We find that the bills entered, and the orders drawn in each department, are properly signed and countersigned.

We have verified the Treasurer's balance, as of December 31, 1915, and find that the cash on hand, together with amount shown by the bank balance and the outstanding checks, agrees with the balance entered in the Cash Book.

We have verified the accounts of the Collector, and find that the cash collected has been turned into the hands of the Treasurer, and his receipt given therefor. The balance of uncollected taxes, agrees with the Collector's statement, as shown in his report.

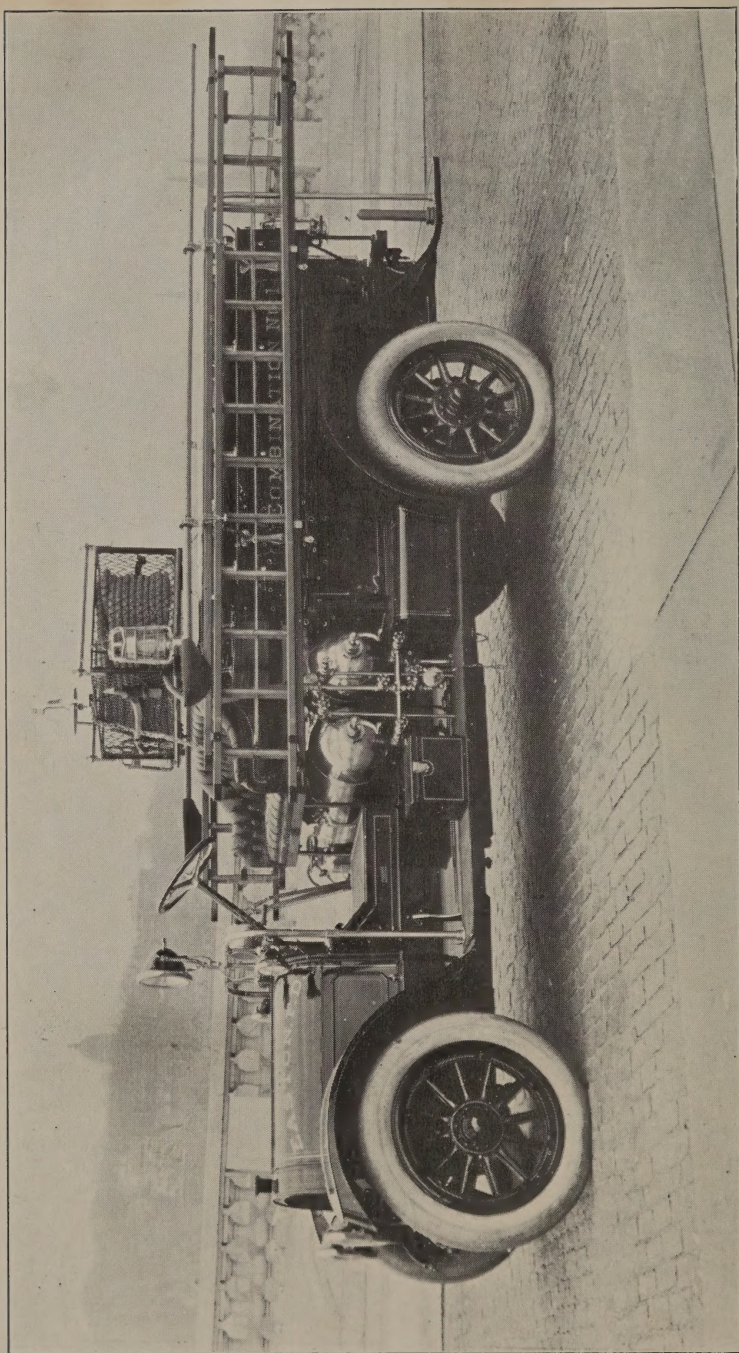

You attention is called to a difference in the report of the Treasurer and the report of the Board of Selectmen, in the following accounts, viz: Charity Account $41.44, Soldiers Relief $35.90, Town Officers $25.00 and Incidentals $30.54. The amounts given in the report of the Selectmen are correct. The difference between the Selectmen's and Treasurer's accounts is due to errors of the Selectmen in drawing their orders on the Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

OTIS E. SPOONER,
JOSEPH E. ANDERSON,

Auditors.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PURCHASE OF MOTOR FIRE APPARATUS

Your committee presents the following report of its action taken in the purchase of fire apparatus.

This committee on its organization, in order to secure for the town the best apparatus possible, solicited and secured the valuable services of Mr. A. B. Morse of the Easton Machine Company, who gave us freely of his time and experience and assisted the committee greatly in a practical way with his advice.

Proposals were received and prices submitted by twelve of the principal builders of the country. To each of these companies forty questions relating to materials used and construction of machines, drawn up by Mr. Morse, were submitted, and after long and careful examination of replies received and inspection of various cars, the contract was finally awarded to Mr. James Lehan, representative of the Pope-Hartford Company, for $4,700.00.

The apparatus was delivered December 6th, complete in every detail of specifications, and was accepted as complete a week later by the committee. This apparatus was under examination during construction by officials of several of the largest New England cities, and on its completion has been declared by authorities as one of the finest machines in the country.

Your committee feels that it has complied with the wishes of the citizens by securing the best machine at a reasonable figure, and hopes that any future service that may be rendered will justify its selection.

Table II is a comparison of receipts and expenditures for the years 1910 and 1915. This shows a difference in appropriation between the two years of $10,704.37, a difference of total receipts of $12,206.36, and a difference of expenditures of $12,810.41. The average increase over five year periods has been between two and three thousand dollars. What has caused this exceptionally large increase during the last five years? The comparison of the two lists shows the following increases; salaries $7,942.66, text books $540.24, new equipment $643.30, transportation $1,793.20, sundries $1,094.15. Money spent for text books as may be seen by referring to Table I, varies greatly from year to year, 1910 being an exceptionally small year. The increase in sundries is caused by the increased cost of supplies, increase in the salary of the school physician, attendance officer, and the taking of the census. The large increases in salaries and transportation have come since 1910.

In 1910 there were six teachers in the High School, in 1915 there were thirteen. This seems like a large increase, but we must remember that the eighth and ninth grades throughout the town have been placed in the High School, making the so-called Sub-Freshman class. Three teachers were taken from the Elementary School to teach them. This leaves only ten teachers for the regular High School. Two of these are extra teachers made necessary by the addition of the departments of Agriculture and Domestic Science. This leaves only two regular teachers added to the High School proper during the last five years, these two teachers being made necessary by the increase of registration of the High School proper from 125 in 1910, to 225 in 1915.

In the North Easton Elementary School there are three less teachers now, than in 1910, when there were seventeen. In the other schools we have the same number of teachers except at Poquanticut, where the school has been closed. Of this large increase, about $5000 has gone directly to the increase of salaries.

The reason for the large increase in transportation is the transfer of the eighth grade to North Easton, the increase in attendance at the High School, the transfer of the seventh grade from the Eastondale School to the South Easton School, the closing of the Poquanticut School, and the transfer of the pupils to the Furnace. In 1910, the average transportation was from South Easton, twenty-five, Easton Furnace and Easton Centre, fourteen; Unionville, ten; Bay Road and Poquanticut, three; Howard District, two; making a total of fifty-four. This gives an average cost per pupil for transportation for the year 1909-1910, $43.60. The average number transported for 1915, was 125, South Easton, fifty-six; Easton Furnace and Easton Center, thirty-four; Unionville, twenty-five; Bay Road and Poquanticut, eleven; more than twice as many. The cost of transportation however, has not doubled. The average cost per pupil for transportation for 1915 was $32.92, costing us now, $10.68 per pupil less than it did in 1910.

This increased appropriation of about $500 over last year, with the saving of $1500 on the salary of the Superintendent, is expected to take care of the running expenses of the new Fred L. Ames School, which will be completed and occupied April 1. The amount asked for repairs is $900 less than the amount spent last year. This should take care of all ordinary repairs.

The North Easton Elementary School, Unionville School, South Easton and Howard Schools need painting. The High School needs repainting inside, and the brick work needs repointing. These repairs have not been included in the figure given above. It has also been suggested that toilet rooms be put into the basement of the South Easton building, now that the building is piped for water.

HIGH SCHOOL

In February, 1915, we had a small class of twenty-eight enter the Sub-Freshman class of the High School. This made the total registration for the High School 306. The crowded conditions remain the same as last year, but will be much worse this February, as we have a class of fifty-six to enter the High School. This congestion will be relieved as soon as the new F. L. Ames building is opened.

Following, I give a set of tables which are self explanatory.

CLASS OF 1915

Thirty-five pupils graduated from the High School in 1915, the largest graduating class in the history of the School. Of the graduates, four went to college, one to a Normal school, one to a preparatory school, one to New Bedford Textile School, three to Commercial schools, and one went on board the Training Ship Ranger. Six completed the commercial course in three years, and one the Household Arts course.

amount of money donated by Mrs. Anna C. Ames. Most of the boys in the Agricultural department and a great many of the children who had home gardens received prizes at the Grange for their products, these prizes being donated by Miss Mary S. Ames.

Mrs. F. L. Ames, Mrs. John S. Ames, and Miss Mary S. Ames again played Santa Claus to the children of the first floor of the North Easton Elementary School, bringing to each of the little ones, the joy that always attends a Christmas tree.

In closing, I wish to thank the School Committee, teachers, parents, and pupils for their hearty co-operation and help which I have received this year.

Acting Superintendent of Schools.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Domestic Science Department has continued to provide lunches for the teachers and pupils every day during the school year. The membership in the cooking classes has remained about the same as last year, the average being about 13. The actual amount of material made and sold has increased considerably. During the year $1,030.58 has been taken in from the sale of lunches to the teachers and some of the pupils, of this amount, $943.40 was paid out for the supplies utilized in the cooking classes. This left a balance on hand at the end of the school year, June 1915, of $87.18. By adding to this the $11.48 which was left from the previous year, $98.76 is the total amount which was deposited in the local savings bank to the credit of the department. Besides this amount of money, there was on hand, to begin the new term with, forty-four dozen eggs preserved in water glass.

The sewing, dressmaking, and millinery classes have continued to meet in the basement of the Grammar school, as before. About seventy-five pupils were enrolled in the classes altogether. The object of the work in the sub-freshman and freshman classes is to become efficient in the use of the sewing machine and the making of plain, French, and fell seams; chemises, nightgowns, combinations, petticoats, etc., are used as working models. In the sophomore class more advanced work is done, garments having more difficult problems being selected. Embroidery in simple form is a sophomore project.

In the dressmaking and millinery class each girl made a tailored shirtwaist, a fancy shirtwaist, at least one dress, and two hats, a velvet hat in the fall and a straw hat in the spring. Each girl selected her own material and pattern. This course proved to be a particularly interesting one this year, due doubtless to the increased size of the class which made possible a good variety in dresses, etc.

On graduation day in June an exhibition of sewing was held in connection with the Manual Arts Exhibit in Lower Memorial Hall.

Respectfully submitted,

MABEL J. CROSBY,
Instructor of Domestic Science.

REPORT OF AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

Mr. Harrie J. Phipps,
Superintendent of Schools,
Dear Sir:

I herewith submit my first report as Agricultural Instructor, which covers a period of three months.

The Vocational Agricultural Student

The Vocational Agricultural schools of Massachusetts are unique in that they practically ignore yearly classifications, such as grading and ranking, but are based on the principle that when a student knows his project he is passed on to the next project. This means that those who are bright and apply hard work to their projects may complete the course within the four years. To those who have more trouble in covering the ground, it is suggested that they should be retained and helped until they become factors of efficiency upon leaving school. The key to the situation is expressed in the fact that we aim to develop the learning and earning powers of the student in about the same ratio. A student who is not learning is not satisfying the course, likewise, a student who is not earning is not satisfying the course.

To correlate the earning power with the learning, we have a system of account sheets which are daily filled out. For example, the student knows whether his poultry, pigs, garden, etc., pay. If, for any reason, they do not, the student has ample opportunity to correct his errors. We encourage a reasonable amount of originality on the part of the student, but if failures are apparent, we reserve the right to change the entire program. Profitable earnings are very desirable, and our boys must fully grasp this important phase of their education before leaving a project.

CORRELATED STUDIES

English and Science

I am pleased to observe the keen co-operation which is apparent in the English and Science Departments, for when we realize that our Vocational Agricultural students are aiming to rapidly find their place as earners, these correlated studies aid in making them more efficient in their enterprises and the closer the relationship, the more efficient is our student.

Woodwork

In order that the student may become reasonably acquainted with the use of blue prints and construction work, such as building small poultry houses, pig houses, etc., this year, for the first time, a course in woodwork has been offered. Parents are encouraged, in another year, to allow their boys to make projects sufficiently large, and in no way question their ability to complete a project in woodwork, since they are under the close supervision of the Manual Training Department.

School Gardens

I find little to say at present concerning school gardens. However, I desire to express my thanks to the members of the Home and School garden committee for their direct assistance in every move that has been made. The land loans that have been offered by Mr. Charles Andrews and Mr. William K. Goward, and others, yet undeveloped, is only one step further toward helping our children become more adept lovers of nature.

Related Subjects

The Massachusetts Argicultural College has offered us a series of public lectures and the U. S. Government has kindly placed us on their list to receive illustrated slides. The students have visited several farms, including the Bristol County Agricultural School. At Grange Fairs and Exhibitions our students have worked hard and in unison for success, and as a result have received ribbons and prize money honors.

In conclusion, I desire to say that this department is ready to give assistance of an agricultural nature to those making application, provided it does not conflict with the regular program. Milk and soil samples will be tested on request; rations for live stock will be balanced, and problems of fertilizing special crops will receive individual attention if desired by the local farmers and townspeople.

SAMUEL C. WEBSTER, Jr.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC

Mr. Harrie J. Phipps,

Superintendent of Schools, Easton, Mass.

Dear Sir:

I am pleased to submit herewith my report on the music in the public schools of Easton for the year 1915.

Our new course of study is now in its second year of use and we are pleased to note that there is a constantly increasing definiteness of result in music throughout the town.

In the High School we have the two chorus divisions made up of the three higher classes and the two lower classes. There is good musical spirit. Our greatest problem has been that of the two lower classes. The musical well-being of the pupils in this stage of their development demands that a closer touch be had with them. For the last two years we have been able to arrange for only one period a week for these classes, which is less time than they would ordinarily have were they considered as the highest grades of the grammar school. The first year the Junior classes were formed, we had two periods a week. It is hoped that with the opening of the new school building and the consequent re-adjustment of classes, we will be able to properly handle this matter.

At Easton Furnace, Easton Center, Eastondale, South Easton, Unionville, Bay Road and Howard Schools, we have added to our equipment, supplementary song books, The Silver Song Series. This allows the use of fresh song material for pupils, who, because of the several grades in each room, remain there two or more years.

In June, the pupils of the North Elementary School gave a concert in the assembly hall of the High School, the children of all grades taking part, from the Kindergarten to the highest grammar grade, for the purpose of raising money for a fund with which to purchase a Victor talking machine. A goodly sum was realized and we hope soon to be able to raise the balance of the amount necessary to purchase the machine. We have a Victor in the High School which is used as an aid to appreciation of good music. A machine will be of similar value to us in the grades below the High School. The concert, aside from its real reason for being, gave an opportunity for parents and guests to note the type of singing done in our schools. We would like all parents to realize the vital part of the lives of their children good music may be and may grow to be.

At the Graduation Exercises in June, the High School Chorus sang the Hunting Song, "Tally-Ho", by Benedict; "The Clang of the Forge," by Rodney; and the waltz song, "Carmena", by Wilson. Through the kindness of interested ones in the High School and in the town we had an orchestra which played selections at the beginning and end of the programme and accompaniments for the chorus songs. We appreciate this service.

I desire to thank the School Committee, you as superintendent, and the teachers, for their interest and work in the music.

Respectfully submitted,

BERNARD B. NYE,

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 31, 1915.

Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF PRACTICAL ARTS

North Easton, Mass., Dec. 23, 1915.

To the Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

I herewith submit my second report as director of Practical Arts for the year of 1915. The work in the Practical Arts department is based on the child's natural desire to do or to make something useful. We are aiming to make this work as educational and interesting to the child as possible by letting him make something that touches his life and is of real interest to him. What is to be gained is the educational value of the work as well as the value commercially of the article made. Through constructive work the child not only gains useful knowledge of construction processes such as every household should know, but also the opportunity to understand such things. Children should make things that are useful in the supplying of the school and home, so that they will realize that the community is not an inexhaustible source from which supplies come, but that each article used has a value and someone must work to produce it. Such training should develop in the child good citizenship. Conducting the course along these lines the boys have not only made many useful articles of furniture for themselves and the school, but also have done repair work to the furniture, which has given them valuable knowledge, besides saving the town an expense of nearly two hundred dollars ($200). This work was performed in connection with the regular class work. During the summer, the high School students, under competent supervision, painted two of the outside school buildings, laid a new floor, and did other repair work as nearly as possible under shop conditions.

The work in the grades throughout the town consists of teaching the boy the use and care of tools, the different kinds of wood, their strength and durability, together with the construction and simple repairs of articles for the home and school. In this training the brain, heart, and physical power of the child are developed through the use of the hands. It is not simply the making of wooden articles, but the study of the wood and of the tools.

Basketry, drawing, and shoe repairing are also included in the Manual Arts. Many of the pupils have earned quite a profit by the sale of their projects along these lines.

Mechanical Drawing: With the opening of school in September the mechanical drawing class was given two periods each day instead of two periods per week, as formerly, thereby making the work more intensive and productive. Some of the projects during the past year are a number of plans of the proposed changes in the North Easton Elementary building, designing houses, together with machine drawings. There have been frequent requests from the boys of the High School for extra time in the woodworking room, which is almost impossible to grant, owing to the large regular classes.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Anna C. Ames, a sum of money was donated to the Easton Grange for cash premiums for work in this department, many of the boys receiving a goodly sum from the awards.

We exhibited at the Brockton Fair and also at the County Fair held in Mechanic's Hall, Boston, which was open for competition to all the schools in New England. Here the Oliver Ames High School was awarded first prize for woodwork, and also a special prize for the three departments exhibited.

The drawing in the course in the elementary school consists of form and color representation, the elementary principles of designing, and picture study. In the lower grades it is useful as a means of expression and an outlet for the imaginative and creative instincts, and in the upper grades it prepares for high school work.

During the coming year I should advise the replacing of some of the tools in the shop at North Easton, as many of them have been in use for some time and are beyond repair.

In conclusion I wish to thank the teachers of the school system of Easton and Mr. George Sylvester, assistant woodwork teacher, for their valuable assistance, and all who have in any way helped to make this a more successful year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN J. KELLY.

REPORT OF TEACHER OF SEWING

North Easton, Mass., Dec. 17, 1915.

Mr. H. J. Phipps,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

The standard of the work in the sewing room remains about the same as in past years.

A new feature (for the girls of today) has been the introduction of knitting lessons for the 7A and 7B Grade girls, the lessons taking the place of the regular sewing lessons, once every four weeks. As the girls were not obliged to take the knitting, those who did take it were interested and the results were very satisfactory.

Two hundred and forty-six articles were made in the school year, including—sheets, pillow-cases, towels, bags, handkerchiefs, aprons, and undergarments, and one hundred and twenty-eight gingham bags were repaired.

Respectfully submitted,

M. EVA CLEMENTS.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE INSTRUCTORS OF THE OLIVER AMES GYMNASIUM AND THE ANNA C.
AMES BAND, EMPLOYED THROUGH THE BENEFICENCE OF MRS. OLIVER AMES.

To the Superintendent of Schools

Dear Sir:

The Ames Gymnasium was built in 1902, and is supported entirely by Mrs. Anna C. Ames, whose aim was to furnish the pupils of the North Easton schools every opportunity for developing their physique under experienced instructors and also to provide them with a building for conducting the various athletic sports engaged in by the children. It has certainly fulfilled its purpose and from the opening up to the presents time, the work accomplished here has been excellent. We have given many very fine exhibitions of Asthetic and Folk Dancing, Wand and Dumbell Drills, Fencing, Wrestling, Athletic Sports and apparatus work.

The gymnastic course is not compulsory and no credit is given toward graduation. It is open to any pupil of the schools provided that the applicant is of sufficient age to take up the work successfully. Physical measurements and examinations by a physician are made when thought necessary.

Fall Term

It is the intention, as much as possible, to keep the pupils out of doors as long as the weather permits, so the time is taken up with football and tennis. The school is not quite large enough to organize a team for competitive games, so the two games, Soccer and Rugby, are played entirely among ourselves.

A very fine tennis court directly behind the high school gives one a fine chance to develop in that branch of athletics and we always have tennis tournaments for the boys and girls. During the last year we did more in this branch than in any previous year. We played two matches with each of the three schools, Randolph, Sharon and Holbrook. We won every match played with the first two schools but in the case of the latter, we were not quite as fortunate. In this match after the singles and doubles were played, it was a draw, and the mixed doubles which decided the match was won by Holbrook.

We had two pupils entered for the 100 yards at the Brockton Fair last fall and William Bertenshaw won second prize in that event.

Winter Term

All the work is indoors and consists of gymnastic drills, dumbbells, chest weights, apparatus work, wrestling, and athletic games. Our only competition sport of this time is basket ball and our record for the past season was fifteen games won against five games lost. For the present season we are much better prepared, having lost only one player by graduation. This was Raymond McEvoy, who is now playing with New Bedford Textile School. To fill his place we have Wm. Bertenshaw and John Linehan, who are showing up exceptionally well.

The members of last year's team were Raymond McEvoy, Carlton Mason, William Healey, Arthur Whyte, Joseph Murphy, Edward Downey and James Pomeroy.

Spring Term

Tennis is kept up until school closes, and through the summer months baseball takes up most of the time, as the players should practice every day to develop good team work. Our baseball team of last season was perhaps one of the best we have ever had, winning 11 games and losing 3.

REPORT OF THE ANNA C. AMES BAND

Boston, Mass., Dec. 14, 1915.

Mr. H. J. Phipps,

Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

The A. C. Ames Band is on about the same good basis of a year ago. Some boys have left us as they do every year, making it harder to keep the band moving ahead, but the younger fellows come along, and they, in their turn, leave, and we begin all over again. This is to be expected and is so everywhere.

The equipment is first class and everything in the best of shape. The music library has been enlarged with music of a higher grade which helps to keep interest in rehearsals which are regular on Tuesday evenings. Lessons are well taken care of and we have some promising material on the way.
